

ETHOLOGY & HUMAN-ANIMAL INTERACTION

MASTER DEGREE PROGRAM

ABOUT

The master's degree program in Ethology & Human-Animal Interaction (EHAI), currently the only one of this kind in Romania, has a duration of 2 years (4 semesters), with teaching in English, being oriented toward the formation of specialists in animal behavior.

The EHAI master provides in an interdisciplinary and interactive manner theoretical and practical knowledge about the scientific study of animal behavior, animal quality of life and needs, the responsible management of interactions with them, and the psycho-social factors associated with attitudes and compassion-based behaviors for humans, animals, and the environment.

During the EHAI program, students have the opportunity to interact not only with specialists from our University but also with national and international experts and community representatives, by getting involved in scientific and social events, including Service-Learning activities.

”

Get involved, learn to be responsible and empathetic toward people, animals and the environment.

“

ADMISSION

Admission to this program is open to undergraduate graduates in the fields of animal sciences, veterinary medicine, psychology, ecology, public health, law, human medicine, social work, and others. Erasmus+ and other types of foreign students are also welcome in the master's program.

Ready to apply?
You can find more details by clicking here!

